General Information

The following is a summary of the Zoning Code Variance process and a description of the application submittal requirements. The information for a Zoning Code Variance application is necessary in order to evaluate the merits of a proposal with applicable county and state regulations and to assess the potential community environmental impacts.

An application will be evaluated on the basis of the information provided by the applicant, the King County Comprehensive Plan, pertinent provisions of the King County Code, site inspection, and comments submitted by citizens and interested public agencies. If the subject property is located within an identified landslide, erosion, steep slope, seismic, avalanche or coal mine hazard or wetland or stream area, the applicant may be required to submit a special study produced by a qualified professional to address the identified critical area (also known as sensitive area) features on the subject property.

Copies of the King County Codes and Comprehensive Plan are available for inspection at the DDES Permit Center and at the Main Branch of the Seattle Public Library. King County Codes and other development regulations are also available on the Internet via the King County Web site at <http://www.metrokc.gov/>.

Pre-Application Conference

A pre-application conference with Land Use Services Division (LUSD) staff is required prior to filing a Zoning Code Variance application. Pre-application request forms and instructions for filing a pre-application conference request are available at the DDES Permit Center. A filing fee is required at the time a request is made, the amount to be determined at the time of filing and based on the latest adopted fee ordinance. LUSD staff will schedule the pre-application conference with thirty (30) days from the date of the request.

Filing an Application

A variance application must be filed in person at the DDES Permit Center. An appointment with a Zoning Technician is required to file the application. Please call 206-296-6797 to schedule the appointment. The minimum submittal requirements necessary to file the application are described below. LUSD staff has twenty-eight (28) days from the date of filing to determine whether or not the application is complete. An application that fails to meet the submittal requirements described herein will be deemed incomplete.

Notice of Application

Public Comment Period: After LUSD staff determines that a variance application is complete, a Notice of Application is issued as specified below. The minimum public comment period is 21 days, although public comments may be submitted and considered until the time of the decision.

1. LUSD sends out a notice of the application to property owners within a 500-foot radius of the subject property.

If the area is rural or lightly populated, the notice must be mailed to at least 20 different property owners; or, in other appropriate cases, the division may determine it is necessary to notify additional property owners.

2. A notice of the application will be published by LUSD in the official county newspaper and another newspaper of general circulation.

3. The applicant is required to install a notice board that must be placed in a conspicuous place on the property throughout the permit process so that it is visible to people passing by the property. Additional notice boards may be required as determined by LUSD.

The cost of the board is the applicant's responsibility. LUSD will send the applicant written instructions regarding the specific requirements for the notice board.

4. Notice of the application is also provided to anyone who writes to the division requesting information regarding the Zoning Code Variance request.

Method for Processing

The Director of the Department of Development and Environmental Services has appointed the Manager of Land Use Services Division to make final decisions regarding Zoning Code Variances. This process generally takes 120 days provided no appeals are filed or substantial additional information is required. Upon conclusion of review of the variance application materials, the Manager issues a written decision based on the written record. A copy of the decision is mailed to all parties who have written to the division. There is a 14-day appeal period whereby an aggrieved person can file an appeal together with an appeal filing fee to the King County Hearing Examiner.

In those cases where a proposed action for a variance also requires county permits, the following procedures shall apply:

1. When other permits require a public hearing before the Hearing Examiner, the review of the Zoning Code Variance shall be combined with the other permit(s), and the Examiner shall act on behalf of the Manager for the purpose of the Zoning Code Variance decision.
2. When other permits are administratively approved, review of the variance application may be combined with other permits dependent on the granting of a Zoning Code Variance. If not combined, other permits may proceed prior to review and approval of such Zoning Code Variance.
3. In those cases where the Hearing Examiner is presiding, the Examiner will also act as the decision-maker and rule on the Zoning Code Variance.
4. In all cases of combined review, the most informative provisions for notification and processing shall govern the review of Zoning Code Variance requests.
5. No permit shall be approved without prior review and approval of any required variance.
